

GLOBAL

PERSONNEL CERTIFICATION SCHEME

CERTIFICATION PROGRAM

INFORMATION TO THE PUBLIC

GLOBAL informs regularly as requested or required, the name and certification number of persons, the effective date of certification and expiration date of certification and professional Qualification in which they are certified, except in cases where there are regulatory or statutory requirements prohibiting such disclosure.

The Certification Programs, including the prerequisites for certification in a professional Qualification is made public without request of interested parties Likewise are made public without the need to request the steps that must be fulfilled for obtaining and maintaining certification in each professional Qualification.

Candidates to one specific Certification Program have available several documents accessible via the site of GLOBAL (www.globalpersoncert.com) organized by each available Certification Program.

The conditions for the Request of Certification, the content of the Certification Programs and their pre-requisites, the Programs of the Exams and required education to obtain the Certification as well as the fees are informed in the site.

The documents available for each Certification Program are the following:

- Certification Program: describe all the Program. It is identified as PCXX, with XX as the unique identification of the Program
- Program of the Exam: describe the details of the specific Exam which is part of the Certification Program PCXX. It is identified as EYY, with YY as the unique number to trace the Exam to the Certification Program.

Competence Centers registered and scope of this registration with indication of Exams to which they are registered are also informed and made available to the public when requested, including the cases where there is more than one competence center registered. Exams promoted by any Competence Center registered have equal value to fulfill the requirements for Certification in a particular Qualification.

GLOBAL is to be accredited by different Accreditation Bodies for specific Exams of also different Certification Programs. The advertising and use of marks of each Accreditation Body is clearly connected with the accreditations retained in each Certification Program. GLOBAL takes all the care to avoid any confusion or misleading information related to the accreditations retained. GLOBAL takes also care that Examiners and Competence Centers are aware of the accreditations of the Exams and the procedures for proper advertising and use of the marks.

GLOBAL issues two kinds of certificates:

- a) Certificates for persons that fulfill all requirements of the Certification Program and
- b) Certificates for persons that participated in an Exam as part of one Certification Program.

The nature and the content of a certificate related to the participation in one Exam is different from the nature and content of a certificate of Compliance with the requirements of a Certification Program.

GLOBAL will include in the certificates the identification of the course, the unique identification of the accreditation number of GLOBAL and the proper mark provided and authorized by the Accreditation Entity, as applicable.